SchmatzFinance.com (Founder, Independent Project)

Equity research platform analyzing how stocks recover after sharp selloffs • schmatzfinance.com

Seattle, WA

2025-Present

- Developed a production machine learning pipeline (calibrated logistic regression and gradient boosting ensemble) validated with an 8-check test suite covering data leakage detection, permutation testing, and walk-forward cross-validation.
- Built and deployed a full-stack web application (Next.js, FastAPI, SQLite, REST APIs) that classifies 21,000+ historical market shock events across 3,200+ stock tickers to model post-selloff price reversion.
- Integrated an AI research assistant using the Claude API and 10+ custom financial data tools; designed the system so every statistic shown to users is computed from queried data rather than generated by the model.
- Operate production infrastructure on Microsoft Azure with automated HTTPS/TLS, scheduled data pipelines, and Stripe billing integration.
